Statutory Information 2017

Based on guidance from the Department of Education, this table details the information that academies should publish on their websites and where you will find it on the Mount Hawke Academy website.

Tind it on the Mount Hawke Academy Website.	T
Information Required	Where you can find it on our website
School Contact Details
Name of school
Postal address of school	Contact
Telephone number of school	Contact
Name of the member of staff who deals with queries from parents and members of the public
Name of the Executive Principal	Ctoff
Name of the Head of School	Staff
Name and address of the chair of the governing body	Hub Councillors
Name and details of your SEN co coordinator (SENDCO)	Staff
Address and telephone number of the academy's owner	Aspire Academy Trust
Admission Arrangements
Admissions arrangements of all mainstream academies	A designing and free schools must comply with the 'School admissions	Admissions code' and the 'School admissions appeals code' Exclusion Arrangements
• If you are an academy or free school other than a 16 to	Dollaica
19 academy, you should publish details of your policy for	Policies excluding pupils
Ofsted Reports
Academies should do one of the following:
Publish a copy of your school's most recent Ofsted	OfCTED Basset
report	OfSTED Report Publish a link to the webpage where users can find your school's most recent Ofsted report Exam and Assessment Reports Key Stage 2 (end of primary school) results. From December 2016, academies and free schools should publish the following information on their website:
percentage of pupils who've achieved the expected standard in reading, writing and maths	Poculto average progress that pupils have made in reading	Results between KS1 and KS2
average progress that pupils have made in writing
between KS1 and KS2
average progress that pupils have made in maths
between KS1 and KS2

 percentage of pupils who've achieved a higher standard in reading, writing and maths your pupils' average score in the reading test your pupils' average score in the maths test You can find more information about these KS2 performance measures, including the higher standard, in the 'Primary school accountability' guidance Performance tables Academies and colleges should publish a link to the school and college performance tables Curriculum Academies and free schools must publish: the content of the curriculum your school follows in each academic year for every subject your approach to the curriculum how parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach you've rise of the publish and the reasons for the appr your pupils' average score in the reading test your pupils' average score in the maths test You can find more information about these KS2 performance measures, including the higher standard, in the 'Primary school accountability' guidance Performance tables Academies and colleges should publish a link to the school and college performance tables Curriculum Academies and free schools must publish: the content of the curriculum your school follows in each academic year for every subject your approach to the curriculum how parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	1 ' ' ' your pupils' average score in the maths test You can find more information about these KS2 performance measures, including the higher standard, in the 'Primary school accountability' guidance Performance tables Academies and colleges should publish a link to the school and college performance tables Curriculum Academies and free schools must publish: • the content of the curriculum your school follows in each academic year for every subject • your approach to the curriculum how parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following • Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach You can find more information about these KS2 performance measures, including the higher standard, in the 'Primary school accountability' guidance Performance tables Academies and colleges should publish a link to the school and college performance tables Curriculum Academies and free schools must publish: the content of the curriculum your school follows in each academic year for every subject your approach to the curriculum how parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach performance measures, including the higher standard, in the 'Primary school accountability' guidance Performance tables • Academies and colleges should publish a link to the school and college performance tables Curriculum Academies and free schools must publish: • the content of the curriculum your school follows in each academic year for every subject • your approach to the curriculum how parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following • Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach the 'Primary school accountability' guidance Performance tables Academies and colleges should publish a link to the school and college performance tables Curriculum Academies and free schools must publish: • the content of the curriculum your school follows in each academic year for every subject • your approach to the curriculum how parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following • Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach Performance tables Academies and colleges should publish a link to the school and college performance tables Curriculum Academies and free schools must publish: • the content of the curriculum your school follows in each academic year for every subject • your approach to the curriculum how parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following • Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	, ,
• Academies and colleges should publish a link to the school and college performance tables Curriculum Academies and free schools must publish: • the content of the curriculum your school follows in each academic year for every subject • your approach to the curriculum how parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following • Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	the 'Primary school accountability' guidance
Curriculum Academies and free schools must publish: • the content of the curriculum your school follows in each academic year for every subject • your approach to the curriculum how parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following • Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach
Curriculum Academies and free schools must publish: • the content of the curriculum your school follows in each academic year for every subject • your approach to the curriculum how parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following • Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach
Academies and free schools must publish: • the content of the curriculum your school follows in each academic year for every subject • your approach to the curriculum how parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following • Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	school and college performance tables
• the content of the curriculum your school follows in each academic year for every subject • your approach to the curriculum how parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following • Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer ### Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy ### Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	Curriculum each academic year for every subject • your approach to the curriculum how parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following • Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the curriculum Statement Furl curriculum Statement Furl curriculum Statement Curriculum Statement Furl curriculum Statement Curriculum Statement Furl curriculum Statement Furl curriculum Statement Curriculum Statement Furl curriculum Statement Furl curriculum Statement Furl curriculum Stategy Policies	Academies and free schools must publish:
your approach to the curriculum how parents or other members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	• the content of the curriculum your school follows in members of the public can find out more about the curriculum your school is following • Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	each academic year for every subject curriculum your school is following • Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy* *Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	your approach to the curriculum how parents or other
Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	members of the public can find out more about the	Curriculum Statement
Depending on what phase of education your school offers, you should also publish any of the following that apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	curriculum your school is following apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	Depending on what phase of education your school	Curriculum schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	offers, you should also publish any of the following that available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19 qualifications you offer Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	apply to your school: the names of any phonics or reading
Rehaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	schemes you are using in key stage 1, a list of the courses
Behaviour Policy If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	available to pupils at KS4, including GCSEs the 16 to 19
If you are an academy or free school, you should publish details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	qualifications you offer details of your school's behaviour policy, including its anti-bullying strategy Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	Behaviour Policy
Pupil Premium If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	If you are an academy or free school, you should publish	Dolisios
If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	details of your school's behaviour policy, including its	Policies
If your school receives pupil premium funding, your funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	anti-bullying strategy funding agreement will specify what information you need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	Pupil Premium need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	If your school receives pupil premium funding , your agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	funding agreement will specify what information you
you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	need to publish about it. Regardless of what your funding
you are an academy or free school, you publish details of your pupil premium strategy. For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	agreement requires you to publish, we recommend that, if
For the current academic year, we recommend you publish: • how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year • details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	you are an academy or free school, you publish details of publish: how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach 	your pupil premium strategy.
 publish: how much pupil premium funding you received for this academic year details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach 		Dunil Dunni
 academic year details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach 		Pupii Premium
 details of the main barriers to educational achievement that the disadvantaged children in your school face how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach 	how much pupil premium funding you received for this that the disadvantaged children in your school face • how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	academic year
how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	details of the main barriers to educational achievement
how you will spend your pupil premium funding to address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	that the disadvantaged children in your school face
address these barriers and the reasons for the approach	1
···
you've chosen	you've chosen

• how you will measure the impact of the pupil premium
• the date of the next pupil premium strategy review For the previous academic year, we recommend you publish:
how you spent your pupil premium funding
• the impact that the pupil premium had on pupils
PE and Sport Premium
If your school receives PE and sport premium funding , your grant funding agreement will explain what information you must publish. It is likely that you'll have to include:
• how much PE and sport premium funding you received for this academic year	Sports Premium a full breakdown of how you've spent or will spend the funding this year the effect of the premium on pupils' PE and sport participation and attainment how you will make sure these improvements are sustainable Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND) Special Educational Needs (SEN) Report Academies and free schools should publish a report on their policy for pupils with SEN.
The report must comply with:
• section 69(2) of the Children and Families Act 2014
• regulation 51 and schedule 1 to the Special Educational Needs and Disability Regulations 2014, where appropriate • section 6 of the 'Special educational needs and disability code of practice: 0 to 25 years' Accessibility Plan for Disabled Pupils Academies and free schools need to carry out accessibility	SEND planning for disabled pupils under the Equalities Act	32110 2010.
You must publish your accessibility plan, which should include details of how you're:
• increasing your disabled pupils' ability to participate in your school's curriculum • improving the physical environment of your school so disabled pupils can take better advantage of the education, benefits, facilities and services you offer improving the availability of accessible information to vour disabled pupils.
your disabled pupils	Í

The accessibility plan you publish can either be a
The accessibility plan you publish can either be a freestanding document or part of another document (such as your school development plan) Equality Objectives As public bodies, academies and free schools must comply with the public sector equality duty . This means you have to publish details of how your school is complying with the public sector equality duty - you should update every year. Publish your school's equality objectives - you should update this at least once every 4 years	Dolicies
You need to include details of how your school is:	Policies
• eliminating discrimination (see the Equalities Act 2010) improving equality of opportunity for people with protected characteristics • consulting and involving those affected by inequality in the decisions your school or college takes to promote equality and eliminate discrimination (affected people could include parents, pupils, staff and members of the local community)
Complaints Policy
We recommend that all academies and colleges publish	Policies their complaints policy online. This will allow parents to Annual Reports and Accounts
You should publish certain financial information about your school:
• annual report annual audited accounts
memorandum of association	Aspire Academy Trust articles of association	Aspire Academy Trust names of charity trustees and members • funding agreement
You can find more guidance about these in the 'Academies financial handbook' Governors' Information and Duties
The 'Academies financial handbook' explains what information you need to publish about your school and	Governance its governing body Charging and Remissions Policies Academies and free schools should publish their charging and remissions policies. The policies must include details	Policies
·
of:

• the activities or cases for which your school will charge pupils' parents the circumstances where your school will make an exception on a payment you would normally expect to receive under your charging policy Values and Ethos
Academies and colleges should publish a statement of	Our School Values their ethos and values Requests for Copies
If a parent requests a paper copy of the information on your website, you must provide this free of charge	Contact